Highlands High School 3118 Elgin San Antonio, TX 78210

OPENING

Our school is our very own little world. The first time you stepped into Highlands, you probably thought it was an ordinary school, a school like any other. Well, you were wrong. Everyone is an individual who expresses himself in his own way. The individuality of students is what makes Owl world special.

Students expressed their feelings through clothing, study, and friendships.

Faculty members also expressed themselves in a variety of teaching styles to enhance the students' educational opportunities. With strong tradition the school cor tinues its postion as a leader in th community.

Whether we knocked off, wen out to eat, or studied, we all er joyed our days here. From the minute we arrived until the minute we left, we all faced some obstaclif not a lot of them. Still, ever minute was enjoyable because we were not ordinary.

Jur school has pride and school spirit, which comes from our nique and different students. alled the "Pride of the outhside," the students show neir pride and school spirit all year ound, but more obviously at footall games and special activities.

Everyone liked to take part in the pirit at Highlands. The Band and Irigade took part by getting veryone to yell for the football team. Most of all, a crowd of fans, which went wild, screaming, and jumping up and down during the game, gave us pride. This feeling gave us the enthusiasm to continue our spirit throughout the school year. As one senior, Connie Gutierrez, said, "The football games and pep rallies are part of the pride and spirit that have made these four years memorable."

Students share this feeling in the classroom, on the football field, or in the community.

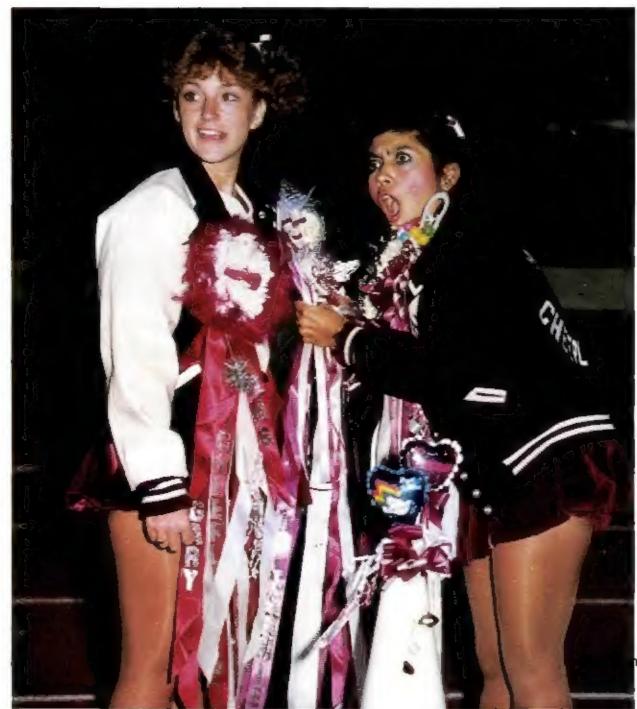

Reviving a forgotten tradition, the bagpipes corp returns to the band for the first time since the early 1960's. The corp is Carol Kraus, Traci Billimek, Cara Rudwick, Sandy Jaeckle, Carol Castillo. Places

The fun times can be remembered where important and unimportant events occurred. Special places are those where you shared an athletic event, played a video game or heard a great song, or maybe it was riding around town. Fun places were found around school, too. The cafeteria and lounge were where friends met to exchange the latest about everything. The assemblies, pep rallys, club activities, and favorite places on the campus took on special significance because they were all parts of Owl world.

A fun place is Comanche Park, site of the annual Brigade BBQ where food booths and games are fundraisers for the girls. (Photo by Rodriguez)

Walking down the hallways is like walking through the pages of Vogue, Gentleman's Quarterly (GQ), or any other major fashion magazine.

Long skirts with oversized sweaters, Swatch, Polo, and Coke clothes, Corona and Rugby shirts, Guess, 501's, and Wranglers were some of the hottest items of the year. But, we can't larget riding boots, hi-tops, penny loafers, and, last but not least, Ropers.

The "I want-to-be-me" attitude clearly explains the reason for such a diverse style of lothes. Whether the style was old or new we wore the clothes with a sense of individualism and this is what fashion is all about.

students. Many of the students went with friends, a brother or sister, or relatives to stay in condos, motels, houses, or just rough it on the beach. Most of the time was spent on the beach, meeting people, getting a suntan, riding around in a truck or a 3-wheeler, while some went to eat at Whataburger or shop around for a souvenir. After that, it was time to head back to the room, shower, eat and hit the beach, spending the whole night there mixing and mingling with people, and staying up all night long. Too soon, another day has ended, but another one had already begun.

The year can be remembered for joyous and tragic events. America celebrated to the tune of the nation's anthem as Lady Liberty's 100th birthday was at hand. Millions flocked to see her unveiling after a major restoration had taken place.

Politically, the country was quiet until the Iran Arms Affair called Irangate emerged. Newscasters began to demand explanations about the sale of arms to the Contras in Iran and the whereabouts of the money from their purchase. Domestically, President Ronald Reagan fared much better. His wife, Nancy, headed a nation-wide campaign called "Say 'No' to Drugs" intended to create an awareness of the problem. The drug-induced death of Duke University basketball player Len Bias brought into sharp focus the nation's attention to the drug abuse problem. Texas faced the problem of dropouts with only 64.4 percent of its high school students graduating. The newly-elected Gov. Bill Clements faced problems in education, such as reforms of House Bill 72 and balancing the state's budget.

Movie hits were Top Gun, starring Tom Cruise and Back to School with Rodney Dangerfield. Platoon, based on events of the Vietnam War, was chosen best picture of the year by the Academy of the Performing Arts.

The nation mourned the deaths of Librace and Rock Hudson, two popular legendary entertainers, but was shocked to learn the cause was from AIDS (Acquired Immunity Deficiency).

In music, artists like Bon Jovi, the Beastie Boys, Trinere and Run DMC took over the nation's radios. But in Texas, George Strait tuned all the others out. His concert was sold out, and in his Stetson hat and boots, he sang "You're Something Special To Me."

Downtown was the sight for festivals. The carnival provided games and rides like the Force Ten and the Love Bug. La Semana Alegre, located at the Hemisfair Plaza, entertained the younger crowds with bands like Joe "King" Carrasco and the Crowns, Pat Travers, Madhouse, Innocent Bystander, La Franz, Patsy Torres and many more. Night in Old San Antonio (NIOSA) specialized in foods from different nations. Wherever you went, you met smiling people and possibly got cascarones cracked on your head.

n a multi-racial high school, invariably some individuals have emerged as instrumental in the achievements of particular components of the society. The Black American heritage, in particular, has contributed to our nation a significant number of prominent figures, the memory of whom serves as an element of cultural enrichment.

During Black History Week a group directed by Ms. Jackie Myart devoted considerable energies to the perpetuation of the memory of these Black heroes. Through various activities of the group, the significance of what they represent is emphasized.

The French Club is an organization made up of students that would like to speak the French language and learn about French customs and environment. This year the French Club had many exciting and fun activities, such as the scavenger hunt in March. The students had a lot of fun looking for objects on their list. In May the French Club had their annual banquet at Mr. Gattis where they enjoyed having pizza and talking to each other.

Club president Jacquez Gaines said, "L'esprit de France of 1987

Besides giving up your time, you also give up a lot of money for uniforms, props, accessories, and for whatever is necessary for the success of the group.

You also have a lot of respon-

Exciting season for all

V arsity football was the most exciting time of the year. With the roaring crowd, dedicated band, and fans, the football team was headed for a great victory this season.

At the beginning of the season, Highlands was rated as the best team in the district, but apparently polls and ratings do not tell the outcome of a season. Something went wrong after the Edison game when things started going downhill: Injuries and grades began to take their toll on the players.

"We really didn't have a losing team, and it felt bad not to do too well when we knew we had the capability to do much better," said Voddie Baucham, tight end. "Still, attitudes were good on the team because everyone had a Christian spirit," said Bobby Barnes.

The most exciting game was against Edison. "That was where we really played football," said Coach Steve Anderson.

"The team next year will be better because it has developed physically and has gotten a taste of victory," said Anderson.

Generally, everyone believed the team should have done better and gone further in district. The Owls ended the season with a 5-3 district record and a 5-5 overall.

All-district honors go to three

O utstanding players named to All-district were Kenny Thompson, Roland Campbell, Voddie Baucham, and Bobby Barnes.

According to Mark Wrase, football coach, these players were selected for their special talents. Kenny Thompson had an excellent year catching the ball as a receiver and was one of the city's leaders in pass interceptions: Voddie Baucham was a very good receiver and steady blocker. Bobby Barnes was one of the district's top running backs for the last two seasons. Roland Campbell played good football at defensive tackle and caused some people a lot of trouble and pain.

The year of victory and defec his year's Junior Varsity players have been the best we've ever had," said Diz Reeves, JV coach.

"With only 22 boys on the squad, the boys effort was outstanding, in spite of their losses that were very close," said Reeves. "But they didn't give up on account of being a small team."

Their greatest "victory" was against Jefferson. "It felt so good to win because we wanted revenge and we got it," said Coach William Hines. With their great comeback, it just shows that this team has the capability to become an outstanding team next year.

Their greatest loss was against Sam Houston. They lost by two points. "It was a close and challenging game," said Reeves.

The team came very close to winning a few games. They lost three games by two points and one by six.

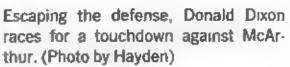

Building for the future, the freshmen team succeeded in winning only three out 11.

The Varsity team had a sensational season. They made it to the playoffs because of their outstanding wins. "We were just so positive about doing well this year. Making it to the playoffs was a great accomplishment," said Coach John Kemmerzehl.

The team looked to the Sam Houston game as its final obstacle to the district championship, and after a breathtaking contest, the Owls took the 29-5-A title. The Owls ended the season with a 23-11 record.

Their greatest victories were against Fox Tech and their second and third game against Sam Houston.

Winning 80 percent of their games, the Varsity team had a pretty outstanding season; "It was a very competitive one," said Coach Gary Clark, because the girls misssed the playoffs by only one game."

Their best victories were against Sam Houston, the district champs, whom the Owls beat twice. The next most exciting victories were against South San and Fox Tech.

They scored the most points against Lanier with the score of 98-22. They finished the season with 59.8 points per game. Their season record was 26-6 while their district record was 13-3.

his JV team has been the best team I've ever coached," said Coach Rufus Lott. The team had an outstanding season by holding the best record in the school, 20-4. They scored over 100 points in three games. They were on top of the district along with Sam Houston, their rivals.

"One of their greatest games was against Lanier," said Lott, about the 108-70 victory.

Another of their great victories was against South San, 107-41. But the best game was against Sam Houston with a smashing score of 79-65.

But it was another story for the girls JV, which had a tough season. One reason was their demanding schedule. They played the hardest schools in the district. The team was also extremely inexperienced, so the season was difficult. "The team learned valuable fundamentals," said Coach Gary Clark.

"Basketball means a lot to me." said Eugina Torres. "I love playing, and I'm looking forward to having a good season next year," said Patricia Martinez.

"The girls worked hard. I personally feel that their effort will result in good things next year," said Barney Cruz, JV coach.

Swingers get second at district

The tennis team got off to a great start and took second place in district competition, losing only to Jefferson in the finals, 10-8. They were led by Junior, Steve Hatton, who is state ranked and the defending district champion in the boys' singles. He was also ranked by the United States Tennis Association. Also leading the boys was Eddie Barrera, Senior, four-year letterman.

"The girls' team started with no experienced Varsity players, but by the end of the season, the doubles teams of Vickie Farley and Kim Neal, and Veronica Rodriguez and Laura Ruiz were two of the best in district," said Coach Carl Mangold.

Varsity at its best

With hard practices and long hours, the Varsity baseball team worked hard to do its best and to be outstanding, but lack of dedication caused the team to miss our goal, the playoffs," said Gene Rodriguez.

Coach Diz Reeves said that the baseball season was better than expected. Graduation left the group with only two starters to begin a foundation for a successful season. Through six days of hard work and discipline every week, they were able to put together a winning team with 13 wins and six losses. The Owls had three golden opportunities in three games to make the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year; however, they failed on each occasion.

"The beginning of the season started off on a 'sour note," said Reeves. Several team members were unable to make the grade academically. Another of the disadvantages was that the field was under maintenance the first two weeks and furthermore the weather was horrible. Several cancellations due to inclement weather caused the inexperienced Owls to fall further behind in the basics of the game.

The closing of the season me with indifference as the majority of the players were glad the season was completed; however, a few the dedicated players missed maing the playoffs. They ended the season with a record of 12-7.

Burbank was the hardest gam while Jefferson was the mo outstanding victory.

The Varsity baseball team was faced with many difficulties throughout the season, but the team didn't give up. They did better than anyone thought they would.

"The boys' Junior Varsity team had a good baseball season. Although they started off slow, they made good progress along the season, finishing strong by winning the last few games," said Coach Rufus Lott.

The most challenging team was Jefferson. The most outstanding game was against South San. Another of their greatest victories was against Sam Houston with a score of 33-0.

Getting off on the right track

he track season got off to a good start for the girls' team. The strongest competition came from Judson and Roosevelt. They defeated Judson in the 400 meter relay. It was then that the girls realized that good things were really possible. After a season of hard work, determination, perseverance, and learning to believe in themselves, the team accomplished what was once thought as being impossible - district championship, finishing second place in the regional JV championships and a chance to compete in Austin, in the Texas State Track and Field Championships.

According to Coach Apryl Hampton, the most improved athlete was freshman, Sonya Lane: Lane improved her time in the 400 meters from 68.5 seconds to 59.6 seconds. She competed on the 4X400 meter relay.

Athlete of the year was Tabitha Allen for her performance in the long jump, (best height 5'8"), the triple jump (best distance 37'5") and the long jump (best distance 19'1/4"). Michelle Johnson was also outstanding for her performance in the relays, 200 meter dash (25.04 seconds), 400 meters (56.8 seconds) and the long jun (17'8").

As for the boys' season, they divell. They placed first overall at the Harlandale Meet. The boys all placed fourth out of nine teams district.

They placed first at Harlanda and three placed in the region track meet: Rodney Lake in the long jump, Lawrence Braxton in the 1600 meter run, and Felix Ortiz the 3200 meter run.

"The boys' track team did we when you consider that they a very young. The future loo good," said Coach Steve Anderso

The boys' cross country team placed twice and had one first place in district, although they didn't win any meets because they lost members due to failing grades.

The outstanding—team accomplishments were when they placed third at the Northeast Cross Country Meet.

The girls' season went well. They finished second in the district.

"I first met the girls on registration day in the lobby of the building. They informed me that they had been district champions for the last three years. I figured that their goal was to win this year also, but I assured them that a trip to state championships was not beyond their reach," said Coach Apryl Hampton.

SPORTS

The year has gone by with many victories and defeats. There were many tears of happiness and some of sadness. There were many bruises, scratches, and injuries that were part of the game.

Highlands is known as a school that takes pride in its athletic program and in its athletes. From every sport there was a player that was outstanding. In fact, every member of the team was of great importance. In every sport, every player has much feeling and emotion for his team. A player may cry because he missed playoffs or because he made it to the playoffs. Strong feelings are involved because the athlete puts much dedication into his or her sport.

The important thing is not always making it to the playoffs but the victories that get them there. It's the trying. As Roddy Stinson put it, "The journey is much more important than the destiny." Giving all you got to get to your goal is much sweeter than being there. That was the attitude of our athletes.

The touching thing about them was the fact that they were like a family. Many said that was what kept them together. We should remember that the driving force behind Highlands is its athletes.

Owl world is a sea of faces. Up and down the halls, in the cafeteria, and in the parking lot are faces. Everywhere you see happy, sad, or blank faces. Some of them are those of friends, people you have known all through your high school years. Most often you will remember those faces that smiled a lot and reflected the special something in Owl world.

The Senior year has always been the year that everyone looks forward to. In reality, it turns out to be one of the hardest years of your life. A year when you thought you could relax and have fun turns out to be full of anxieties. Feelings about leaving home, acceptance into college, plus the day-to-day anxieties about your social life are all part of your Senior year.

Graduation is a big step in your life, the step that opens the door to your future. With all of the fun in your Senior year, there had to be a balance of seriousness. Too much playing around and knocking off

Year not what most may expect can lead to disaster. You have to get all of your priorities lined up at the beginning of the year, carry them out, and then you can relax at the end of the year. Your top priorities are the completion of college applications, financial aid forms, and passing the SAT or A tests. All the while you must a keep your grades up.

Now you are at the end of the wonderful Senior year. If you has accomplished your priorities a kept your anxieties under contrible big night finally arrives. We your fellow classmates, you walk the stage and receive your diplorant the presence of your family a friends. You have worked 12 years for this, and this special night we live forever in your memory, these closing moments of your school life, your feelings of a complishment and pride will never be forgotten.

The day came to get fitted for cap and gowns. Jostens came Tuesday, January 13, for a briefing, and then they came on Wednesday, January 21, to take orders. At 7 a.m. all of the Seniors lined up in the auditorium to place orders.

Again on May 5 they all lined up at 7 a.m. to pick up their orders. They were ready for graduation then.

Highest, long in service

What is a Senior? The definition from the Thorndike-Barnart Dictionary reads: "Senior (sen yer) adj. (1) Older (2) higher rank or long in service; a U.S. member of the graduating class of a high school or college."

This certainly describes the 1987 Seniors. They are the superior class in the student body. To this point they have demonstrated a will to finish their education which they began years ago; they did not quit. Their school spirit and determination is the core of their Highlands pride.

As the Seniors left the school and entered the "real" world, they could look back at the quality education they received here. Being a Senior from Highlands means the end of a mission, but the begining of a successful journey.

Grades still important uring your Senior year, your academics counted more than ever. If you wanted to graduate and attend a good college, you had to have the grades. Since the passing grade had been raised to 70, students had to work harder for their grades.

The main courses for a Senior are English IV and government/economics. Also they had to have 22 credits to graduate. In addition, they had to maintain a 70 or above average to be eligible for extra-curricular activities.

P art of being a Senior was being involved in various activies on campus. A lot of students enrolled in the vocational programs, where they went to school half a day and worked half a day, while others participated in extra-curicular activies, like the Brigade, Band, athletics, and various clubs.

Hard work in each activity pays off. Like Senior athletic trainers Christi Farris and Hope Goode said, "The best part of being a Senior trainer was Coach Wrase

At the end, the graduates could look back with a feeling of accomplishment. In 1983 they had been a part of the 761 Freshman

384 makes class large

S ince House Bill 72 went into effect, students have been having to buckle down and study. Graduates of 1989, the Sophomore Class was one of the larger classes with 384 members. As they get closer to graduation, they will encounter major tasks such as the TEAMS test which they must pass to graduate. The one thing Sophomores look forward to is having only two years left until graduation.

Movies, Image popular

When it comes to weekends, the Sophomores knew what to do and where to go. One of the most popular places was Image. When Thomas Balderas was asked, "What is it about image that you like?" he replied, "The music; it's a place you and your friends can all get together and have fun."

But what else did the Sophomores do in their spare time? Evelyn Lopez said, "The movies were a good place to go." And the mall was also a favorite place since it has so many different things to see and do.

No more getting lost

By the time you're a Sophomore, you pretty much know what's going on. No more getting lost or forgetting where your locker is. But being a Sophomore, the teachers expect a lot out of you and your performance. So, no more, "Uh, I don't know" or "I forgot."

During your Sophomore year, the "locker sharing" continues, such as putting our favorite guys' pictures in it, taking the wrong folder to class, and making a mess out of the whole thing. But what are the advantages of being a Sophomore? Leonard Ewing said, "Looking down on the Freshman" and "Not being called a 'Fish'" said Anissa Zeleski. All in all, being a Sophomore isn't as bad as some might imagine. It's only an obstacle we all must conquer sometime; it's like taking the next step each year.

Fun and friends for them

Y our Sophomore year should be a lot of fun. You have a lot of new friends, and you feel more sure of yourself. You have so much to look forward to, such as becoming an upperclassman, ordering your class ring, and going to the prom next year.

When you're a Sophomore, the Freshman look up to you, so you have to set a good example.

S tudents entering high school found new and exciting experiences. The Freshmen found there was a major difference from what they left behind as they prepared for their future.

If you got involved in the wide range of clubs and organizations, you made new friends while striving for high goals towards your senior year, making a proud statement of being an "Owl." That is what being a "Fish" is all about.

E veryone goes through the first day jitters of being a Freshmen. You start by catching the bus. All the seats seem to be taken. You feel all eyes are glued on you. Fish spirit

T he first pep rally for the Freshmen always turns out to be quite a flop because of their inexperience. In fact, most Freshmen didn't even know what one is until they experience the first Friday of the football season. After a couple of weeks being called "Fish," the Freshmen begin to feel an urge to show the upper classmen that they do have as much spirit. They did achieve one win at the pep rally.

The road to success

Entering high school means it's time to get a proud mode of transportation. This is when Driver's Education assumes an important part of being a full-fledged teen.

A Freshman enters the first day of Drivers' Ed. with lots of enthusiasm. This course is a must to prevent the sidewalks from being littered by bored teenage pedestrians.

HB watches like a hawk

B eing students, we all assumed that House Bill 72 would be the one to break us. HB 72 made. us buckle down and scorn authority for a while. What we didn't know was that the teachers were to come under close scrutiny as well. The Texas Teacher Appraisal System was designed to implement HB 72, to encourage professional growth for both teachers and administrators, and to improve instruction in the classroom.

It not only evaluated teaching skills, but also provided a basis to evaluate teachers for the career ladder.

The teachers were observed a total of four times a year. The observed naturally must be on his or her toes at all times, not just when observed. So when the teachers test students and watch them like a hawk, students shouldn't feel bad because they are being watched like a hawk, too.

62% agree to process

The responses of a survey of the teachers revealed 62 percent thought the Teachers Appraisal System Instrument was necessary and approved of the self evaluation and having evaluators and administrators make formal visitations to their classes.

After Mark White O.K.ed the Texas Examination of Current Teachers and Administrators last year, many teachers were upset because they were required to be tested, and only 38 percent of those surveyed voted for him this year. What the newlyelected governor, Bill Clements, does to or for the teachers remains to be seen.

Community and Highlands HS, together forever

Since 1956, Highlands High School and the Community which surround it have grown together. Over the years, Highlands High School's Pride has endured and grown with the loyal support of the community which share its name. None of its growth and achievement could have taken place without the support of these loyal Highlanders.

We, at Highlands High School, salute and gratefully thank them for their continuing support for more than 30 pride-filled years.

PTA plans work with school

One of the most civic-minded organizations is the PTA. Composed of 150 members, their money-making projects were the concessions at the Christmas Dance, sales of tamales, stuffed footballs, stadium cushions, and license plate holders. They gave a $200 scholarship to a senior.

One of their special projects was a newsletter which was mailed to every parent of children in the school. They also honored two teachers, Ms. Cathy Carrillo and Ms. Estella Fonseca, for sponsoring a drive to collect items for a needy family.

Officers are Connie Garcia, president; Maria Ann Gonzales, vice president; Dolores Blanar, recording secretary; Rosetta Cool, corresponding secretary; Delia Castaneda, treasurer; Judda Fox, parliamentarian; and Hope De Los Santos, historian.

Programs keep kids occupied

Beginning on June 2, the City Parks and Recreation opened their doors for the summertime use of their facilities and equipment. The program involves 23 year-round centers in the city's effort to keep kids from getting bored until August 8, just before school starts.

Kids participating range from ages 6-18, and everything at each center is free. All centers open from 8:30 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Classes are held in crafts and dancing, and include some special activities for Senior Citizens. At the South Side Lions Parks, the Activity

Boosters work in summertime

Although the Band Boosters was of a moderate size, the organization worked hard to prepare for the band trip to Dallas. Much of the money was raised through summer car washes, rummage sales, and by selling Town and Country tickets for dinners. Some of the profits went to buy the band members T-shirts and uniforms.

The Mexican Suppers, held October 21 and March 16, helped finance the Dallas trip. Band students were given percentage of the tickets that they sold for the event. Students were also paid for participating for doing an end of the year inventory held at Foleys, sponsored by the booster club.

Officers are Russell Reinen, president; Carl Lehman, vice president; Polly Reinen, secretary; Billy Billimek, treasurer; Mary Swanson, parliamentarian; Aurora Estrada, chaplain, and Jim Connell, historian.

Directors were Larry De Luna and Irma Mojica. Also in the area is Highlands Park, with Activity Directors Felipe Castro and Leticia Barrera in charge. Coach Roman Gomez sponsored a basketball tournament at the South Side Lions Park, February 6-8, and students who played were Patrick Braxton, Tommy Balberas, Ray Braxton, Mike Delgaldo, Arthur Delgado, John Gomez, and Ernie Hernandez.

The City Talent Show is sponsored annually with each center entering talent acts to compete in the show. One of the competitors is Gina DeLeon.

Going with the girls

C omposed of 136 members, the Brigade Spirit Club sponsored its annual BBQ, November 8, at Comanche Park where they made over $3,000 to help pay their expenses. Answering their request, the Board of Trustees approved a renovation of the Brigade Room at a cost of $31,000.

Officers are Carmen Lopez, president; Jean Johnson, vice president; Hope De Los Santos, secretary; and Karen Scott, treasurer.

Parents chaperoned special events, provided transportation, encouraged competition, and supported the girls by attending these events.

various fields of education was the Community Adult Education Service, which is directed by George Mosely. Enrollment ranged from 600 to 750 in GED, Pre-GED, and English As a Second Language, and between 400 to 600 were enrolled in Computer Literacy, Accounting, Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typing, Lotus 1-2-3, and Word Processing.

Increasing these skills helped many people improve their job opportunities and self-confidence. As night monitor and instuctor, Mr. Holcombe added to the unity of the community along with Ms. Eva Garcia, secretary to Mr. Mosely. Classes were held from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. each week.

Students and their sponsors attended practice meets at Holmes High School in December, at Highlands High School in January, at East Central High School in February, and at Roosevelt High School in February.

At the Highlands meet, January 23, approximately 40 schools entered. Highlands students won second place in this eighth annual practice meet.

Winners at the district meet, March 21, advanced to the regional competition at St. Mary's University, April 24-25, where Brent Almond placed fourth in Feature Writing and was the alternate to the state meet.

Teachers who sponsored these UIL contestants are (front row) Hilda Penn, (Shorthand); Jackie Myart (Speech), Shirley Rich (Calculator Applications and Number Sense) Karolynne Palamarchuck (Accounting); (back row) Pierre Valasquez (Science); Cynthia Jenkins (Spelling); Carolyn Blumberg (One Act Play); and Patricia Kappmeyer (Journalism). Not shown are Bonnie Sparkman (Ready Writing) Diana Saenz, (Typewriting); and Jerry Moore (Accounting). (Photo by Rodriguez)

The Harlequin Company, or the Drama Club, of Highlands High School became a very active club. Many of its club members were even in the International Thespian Honor Society. To be in this elite club, one must accumulate a certain number of points by the end of his junior year and also participate in many plays, and workshop activities.

Those giving outstanding performances at zone or the district meets are (front row) Brent Almond, All-star cast; Elizabeth Morales, Best Actress; Wilma Johnson, All-star cast; Leticia Sosa, Honorable Mention; Naomi Garcia, Honorable Mention; (back row) Mike Ortiz, All-star cast; William Whiten, Lilly Grant, All-star cast; and Paul Folores, All-star cast. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 1987 Brigadoon Staff wishes to acknowledge the following people who have made this yearbook possible:

Mr. Martin Froebel, electronics teacher, who assisted with photography, copy writing, and word processing;

Mr. Kenneth Holcombe for repairing computers and encouragement;

The photographers Deborah Dominguez, Mark Hayden, and Zulema Villarreal, with special thanks going to Daniel Anaya who gave up his first week of summer to print needed pictures.

And to Ms. Patricia Kappmeyer who deserves a gold medal for her year here. We appreciate your holding on and for helping us pull through the year to produce, I'm sure, a successful yearbook. Thanks-a-MILLION!!

Sincerely yours,

FRa Sonzalce

COLOPHON

The 1987 Brigadoon was published by the Highlands High School Yearbook Department. Newsfoto Yearbooks of San Angelo, Texas, printed the book with a press run of 750 copies. The book is 232 pages in 70 pound enamel paper. The copy is 10, 12, & 14 point News Gothic.

Cover is white lithocote with maroon 034 coloring. All copy was typed on an IBM PC computer and submitted for the first time on diskettes to the publisher. Both cover and endsheets were drawn and designed by Daniel Anaya.

John Parsons, Newsfoto Yearbooks, representative provided technical advice.

n Owl world, the Student Council held Teen Day on April 11 where over 400 participants took part in the Mini-Olympics at Memorial Stadium. Since it was established by a Highlands student, Patsy Hernandez, two years ago, it has brought hope to many abused children in San Antonio.

At this meet, over $5,000 was raised for the San Antonio Cares for Kids and the prevention of child abuse. The event was organized by Angela Krenek, and hosted by the Student Council, which sold tickets to spectators, and collected entry fees from teams and prizes fro sponsors to purchase informative materials and to help families with the problem of child abuse throug counseling programs.

Owl world has pride

This is how in Owl work students participate in their con munity and their school, hell themselves and others, alway showing school spirit and school pride.

O will world has come to an end, and everything has come and gone from football games to graduation.

In Owl world everybody made the best of this year. Through determination and work, students became mature and more dependent.

Freshman became Sophomores, and they don't have to worry about being made fun of anymore. They can pass on what they received to next year's Freshmen. Sophomores became upperclassmen, and no doubt, are better prepared to deal with what lies ahead. Juniors are Seniors now and rule the school. Last, but not least the Seniors, now graduates, made it all four years, and are ready for the real world.

Owl world goes on

The halls and classrooms are now vacant and silent, but if you listen, Owl world is still here, still different because it has unique students that make Highlands High School the best.
